POLICY ON THE PROTECTION OF PERSONNEL'S INCOME BY INCREASING THE MONTHLY NET TAKE HOME PAY TO FIVE THOUSAND PESOS (P5, 000.00)

I. RATIONALE

Since its inception, the Jail bureau has been relentless in crafting measures and pursuing valuable agenda for the promotion of the general welfare of its personnel as mandated by law.

In 2005, the President, Her Excellency Gloria Macapagal-Arroyo signed Executive Order No. 462 mandating all government agencies to adopt measures and safety nets to protect the income of government employees in order to strengthen their commitment to public service and improve their work efficiency and effectiveness. This administrative issuance mandated the adoption of the following measures:

- a. Adopt a poverty threshold as limitation for purposes of deduction from salaries of government employees for payment of loans amortization and service fees for private association and lender;
- b. Eradicate systems and procedures that lead to negative bureaucratic behavior, such as debt culture;
- c. Promote employees' welfare; and
- d. Provide motivation to official and employees to observe public service ethical standards.

The National Statistical Coordination Board pegged the poverty threshold; the minimum amount of income a family must earn to provide for the basic needs of the family and achieve an acceptable standard of living, to Php 5,454, in 2004, Php 7, 859 in 2005 and Php 8,061 in 2007. Last year the figure rose to more than Php 10,000.00.

In line with the aforesaid facts and the commitment of the organization to protect and promote the welfare of its employees, there is a pressing need to increase the mandatory monthly net take home pay of all personnel.

II. PURPOSE AND SCOPE/VISION

This policy prescribes the guidelines in increasing the amount of the mandatory monthly net take home pay of all BJMP personnel to ensure that they are living in accordance to the prevailing social economic standards.
